Notes:

1. Some interactive Resources are only compatible with Windows. Please find the detailed system requirements in User Agreement.
2. Each activation code can be redeemed three times.
3. Please purchase again if the activation code has expired or the code redemption limit has been reached.
4. After activation, a valid for use (资源有效期).txt file will be generated automatically. Each activation code has an expiry date, and is limited to the period starting from the date of first activation.
5. After downloading and unzipping the file, double-click to run the application file (.exe).
6. If the files cannot be opened, please check whether your antivirus software has blocked it. We suggest you temporarily disable the antivirus software to download and run the files. If the problem remains, please contact IT Support (email: techsupport.cn@pearson.com) or hotline 400-890-0011 ext 2)

Special notes for Mac Users:

7. Please only have ONE interactive resource open at any given time. Opening multiple resources simultaneously will result in failure to run.
8. If you see the message "Pearson e-bookshelf can't be opened because it is from an unidentified developer", please refer to readme.pdf in the resource package for the solution.
